Mission

Currently living in Reno, NV but I'm prepared to relocate anywhere in the United States or abroad. Enrolled in CareerFoundry's Full-Stack Web Developer course and have a robust knowledge in building both Client-side and Server-side applications from the ground up. I aspire to find a company who values quality end-user products just as much as the quality professionals who create them. I offer a great foundation in a plethora of coding languages as well as database integration and authorization/authentication and more.

Skills
